

Q.Tell me about yourself?

Ans-

Good morning Sir,
My name is Dhanoj Gupta, and I'm from Pune. I have completed my Bachelor's degree in Computer Engineering.

I have a total of 2.5 years of work experience — 1 year in teaching and 1.5 years as an MIS Analyst, where I gained strong skills in data management, reporting, and analysis. Recently, I also completed an internship in Data Analytics, which helped me improve my knowledge and practical skills.

I am a hardworking and dedicated person. I always try to give my best and complete my work on time.

My short-term goal is to join a company where I can use and grow my skills, and my long-term goal is to take on more responsibility and become an expert in my field.

Thank you, Sir.

Q.Why You left Your Previous Job?

Ans-

"I left my previous job to transition into a data analytics role, gain advanced skills, and explore better growth opportunities in the field."My previous role had limitations in terms of growth in these areas, so I decided to upskill and pursue opportunities that better match my career goals."

OR

"I wanted to transition into a more data-driven role, which aligns with my interest in analytics and business intelligence. My previous role gave me a strong foundation in data handling, but I wanted to explore deeper analytical insights and decision-making processes."

OR

"I gained valuable experience as an MIS Analyst, but I wanted to enhance my skills in data analytics, Power BI, and SQL. To bridge this gap, I completed a Data Analytics internship and additional AI courses to prepare myself for a more analytical role."

Q.Why Should we hire you

Ans-

I believe I am an ideal candidate for data analyst role because of my strong analytical skill and passion for working with data.

I am confident in my ability to apply my skill and experience to excel in this role and make meaningful contribution to the organization. I am confident that my work ethic and enthusiasm will add value to your organization."
